- Let's begin with Uncensored, what has been your approach with this solo record?

Freedom of expression for the most part. Doing the music that I wanted to do and having the freedom to express myself the way that I wanted to.

-What has been your biggest challenge for this album?

Being independent and not having the support of a major label has been a big challenge. Social media has provided an outlet for me to get my music to the fans.

- Definitely a great record. After cumulating Hits, are you still craving for Gold?

Yes!

- What do you think of the current competition?

I don't really feel there is competition, I think there is room for everybody and it is up to the fans.

- Where do you see the industry heading?

The industry is evolving and it is going to continue to evolve. I think it is going to be based more on live performances as opposed to selling music.

- What 's the first record you ever bought?

I think it was Take 6.

- Oh yes the Legendary Gospel Group... finally are you going to tour with the new album?

Eventually, yes.
